RANDOM ACTS

Outskirts Press, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 231 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Random Acts begins with the invasion of Luxembourg the summer of 1914, during the first required visit Susanna Strashoffer Von Heldorf made from the United States to visit her elderly grandfather in Luxembourg. When the Germans moved into the country in August, she and her grandfather lost themselves in the chaos and headed for a remote cabin in the mountains of Northern Italy. Though she missed her adoptive parents and their sons, she and her grandfather and her small dog, Minnie, got along well and were self-sufficient. Susanna, a gifted musician, dreamed of her music and composed many works without the aide of her beloved piano. Her grandfather, hunted for food every day and then in March of that first year, he died of a heart attack, leaving Susanna alone in a strange place to fend for herself. This is the first-hand account of her experiences as she fought for survival during the four-and-a-half years the war lasted. She describes the freezing winter she spent with her grandfather in a cabin high in the Alps and about burying him in a cave after his death in the early spring of 1915. She also tells us about the time she was rescued by Italian soldiers and of the next winter nearly starving to death while living alone in a cave at the foothills of the mountains. She recounts the nightmare of being tried for treason after helping an injured enemy soldier and of subsequently being beaten nearly to death by the Italian authorities. Along with the bad, she remembers the good times when she entertained the Italian troops with her music and was thought to be an angel...
