Due to this crisis many investment banks went bankrupt for instance Lehmann Brothers. The proportion of lower-quality subprime mortgages originated rose from the originally 8% to approximately 20% from 2004-2006, with much higher ratios in some parts of the United States. These subprime mortgages were well-liked in the United States and were one of the only options for many immigrants to own their dream house in the United States. A high percentage of the mortgages, over 90% in 2006, were adjustable-rate mortgages. This was part of a broader trend of lowered lending standards and higher-risk mortgage products. 28 pp. English.
